

Music Fest 2010

At the Tip of Borneo

3 July 2010

Envelop in the language of sound and ignite all your senses as the sun gently sets on a cliff overlooking the meeting point of the South China Sea and Sulu Sea. With the dramatic setting in the beautiful outdoors, allow your heart to beat in sync with melodic rhythms from upbeat jazz and pop tempos to wistful classical tunes. Last held in 2006, the much anticipated comeback of the Sunset Music Fest features 80 promising local musicians including the Jesselton Philharmonic Orchestra, whose performance will leave you tongue-tied. Members of the public can catch this musical presentation FREE-OF-CHARGE and are encouraged to bring personal mats as seats are limited.

Music aficionados can revel in the eclectic mix of world music and folk songs as 80 local musicians take centre stage at the breathtaking Tanjung Simpang Mengayau, the Tip of Borneo.

The main highlight includes a musical presentation by the renowned Jesselton Philharmonic Orchestra (JPO). The full orchestra will be headed by two very established local music instructors, Yap Ling and Chou Yang Ching. Ever since its inception, JPO has matured into an all-volunteer ensemble that consists of 60 instrumentalists including strings, winds, brass, percussion and keyboard players.

JPO will be performing the classical Nutcracker Suite by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky and Eine Kleine Nachtmusik by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, plus their rendition of local folksongs Jambatan Tamparuli and Sayang Kinabalu. With the dramatic setting in the outdoors, this much anticipated comeback since 2006 promises to be a mesmerising experience that is out of this world!

Head over to the Tip of Borneo, Tanjung Simpang Mengayau, Kudat on July 3 to enjoy this musical extravaganza that begins from 5:00pm onwards. Entrance is free-of-charge; however, audiences are encouraged to bring personal mats as seats are limited.
